

William Hill award 2021 opens for entries

News - Prizes Tuesday, 16th February 2021

The William Hill Sports Book of the Year award 2021 has opened for entries. The award is worth £30,000 to the winner and £3,000 to each shortlisted author.

The closing date for entries is Friday 20 August. A panel including journalists, authors, sportspeople and industry figures will draw up the longlist. The judges - Alyson Rudd (chair), Clarke Carlisle, Katherine Grainger, John Inverdale, Danny Kelly and Mark Lawson - will announce their shortlist in October and their winner in December.

The 2020 winner was The Rodchenkov Affair by Dr Grigory Rodchenkov (WH Allen).

<https://news.williamhill.com/sport/sports-book-of-the-year/>

Sports Book of the Year podcast

Source article: <https://www.bookbrunch.co.uk/page/article-detail/william-hill-award-2021-opens-for-entries>